Week 1

1. What if the place you feel most disqualified... is the very place Jesus is writing grace into your story?

2. Where in your life have you "gone back to fishing"? And what would it look like to see Jesus waiting on the shore again? What would Jesus call you back to do?

3. Have you ever avoided Jesus because you assumed He saw you the way others do? What if His response is completely different than you imagined?

4. Is there any part of your heart that's been standing outside the party, trying to earn something God already said was yours?

5. What if Jesus isn't waiting for you to get it all together, but is simply waiting for you to turn toward Him, like the thief did?

6. Where do you still struggle to believe that you've been fully forgiven? What would change if you believed Jesus already said, "Forgive them", about that part of your story?

Week 2

1. Ask yourself: Where does prayer live in my daily life? Is it unknown, hidden, visible at times, or at the center of your life? Journal your answer and write where you desire to be in your prayer life.

2. Not out of shame or guilt, but is there an invitation or activity in your week that you could decline to make intentional space for time with God?

3. What would it take for you to be intentional in giving God your mornings? Maybe wake up 10 to 15 minutes earlier for uninterrupted time in prayer.

4. Who in your life could you ask about their journey with prayer? What might you learn by opening the door to that kind of conversation, and how could it help you grow in your prayer life?

5. Read John 17 out loud. What stands out to you about Jesus' heart for unity? How might His prayer shape the way you pray for others and pursue unity in your own life?

6. Is there an area in your life where you've been asking God, "Is there another way?" What would it look like to fully surrender that to Him in prayer this week?

Week 3

1. What is one area in your life—physically, emotionally, or spiritually—where you've hesitated to believe healing is already yours, and what truth from God's Word can you begin declaring over that area today?

2. Is there an area where you've stopped believing because symptoms remained? How can you reignite faith in that area?

3. Are there areas in your life where you've been asking God to treat a symptom, but He's waiting for you to believe for full restoration—mind, body, and spirit? What would it look like to agree with Him for complete wholeness today?

4. Have I allowed symptoms or past disappointments to speak louder than God's Word and what step can I take today to realign my faith with what He has already promised?

5. Can you think of an area in your life where you've been waiting to see a breakthrough? What would it look like to shift from waiting in worry to thanking God in faith even before you see the results?

6. Are there parts of your story that have made you feel disqualified from healing or restoration? How might your faith shift if you truly believed that Jesus sees you with compassion, not condemnation?

Week 4

1. If you really believed Jesus cared for every detail of your life, how would that change how you carry today?

2. What pain have you been trying to hide or heal on your own, and what would it look like to bring the whole truth of it to Jesus today?

3. Where in your life do you feel the most pressure right now—and have you truly invited Jesus into it, or are you still trying to handle it alone?

4. What practical needs are you facing right now, and what step of humility or obedience might Jesus be prompting you to take?

5. Who in your life are you carrying before Jesus right now—and what would it look like to trust His heart in the waiting, not just His hands?

6. Where in your life have you lost hope, and could it be that Jesus is already walking with you there, waiting to reveal Himself again? What is He saying to you right now? What are you seeing of Him in this moment?
