Week 2

Compassion That Moves

Monday: Compassion Begins with Seeing

Tuesday: Compassion Interrupts Convenience

Wednesday: Compassion Gets Close

Thursday: Compassion Gives What it Has

Friday: Compassion Creates Places of Restoration

Saturday: Go and Do Likewise

Monday: Compassion Begins with Seeing

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Is there anybody that I have overlooked that I need to see the way the Samaritan saw the wounded man and the way God sees us?

Tuesday: Compassion Interrupts Convenience

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Is there something I may be viewing as an inconvenience that God is saying is an opportunity?

Wednesday: Compassion Gets Close

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Is there someone whose burden I need to step into instead of observing from afar?

Thursday: Compassion Gives What it Has

REFLECTION QUESTION:

What has God already given me that I can offer someone today?

Friday: Compassion Creates Places of Restoration

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Is there someone God is inviting me to walk alongside, creating space for restoration instead of expecting instant healing?

Saturday: Go and Do Likewise

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Which step of compassion: seeing, stopping, drawing near, giving, or creating space for restoration, is God asking me to grow in? As I go about my week, how is Jesus inviting me to "go and do likewise"?

Week 3

Oil, Wine, and Power

Monday: You Carry Something

Tuesday: Be the Bandage

Wednesday: The Mercy That Heals

Thursday: Wine That Washes

Friday: Power That Heals

Saturday: When the Power Runs Out

Monday: You Carry Something

REFLECTION QUESTION:

What has God placed inside you that someone around you may need today—His presence through prayer, His Word through encouragement, or your testimony of what He has done? Who might God be inviting you to cross the road for?

Tuesday: Be the Bandage

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Who do you know who's isolated right now — not necessarily in crisis, just alone — who needs your presence more than your advice? And what's kept you at a distance: busyness, not knowing what to say, or not realizing that just showing up is enough?

Wednesday: The Mercy That Heals

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Is there a wound you've been hiding out of shame, afraid that bringing it into the light would mean judgment instead of healing? And who in your life is carrying a wound right now that only your mercy — not your advice, not your silence — can reach?

Thursday: Wine That Washes

REFLECTION QUESTION:

What lie might you be believing about a wound in your life—that God caused it, that you deserve it, or that He's stopped caring? Who around you is carrying an infected wound right now that needs you to speak truth to them in love?

Friday: Power That Heals

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Where have you given up on God moving, not because He failed, but because it took longer than you expected? And who is God asking you to love today — not fix, not heal, just love — trusting that the power will follow?

Saturday: When the Power Runs Out

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Where have you been serving out of your own strength instead of His — and what would it look like this week to actually schedule time to sit with God, protected on your calendar the same way you'd protect any other commitment?

Week 4

The Inn - Building a House That Heals

Monday: What's Better Than Grandma's House

Tuesday: Bring Someone

Wednesday: A Little TLC

Thursday: Never Show Up Empty-Handed

Friday: Mi Casa Es Su Casa

Saturday: Be the Church

Monday: What's Better Than Grandma's House

REFLECTION QUESTION:

What sacrifices would you have to make to truly savor your time in God's house?

Tuesday: Bring Someone

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Knowing that my personal invitation has the power to bring someone to church, what is stopping me from inviting someone every single day?

Wednesday: A Little TLC

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Does thinking about the church as a place of healing and restoration instead of a building where you go to sing and hear a sermon each week stir your heart to invite more people?

Thursday: Never Show Up Empty-Handed

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Reflect on the scripture that explains God enriches you so that you can be generous (2 Corinthians 9:11, NIV). Have you been generous to God, or have you been showing up to his house empty-handed, just expecting to receive?

Friday: Mi Casa Es Su Casa

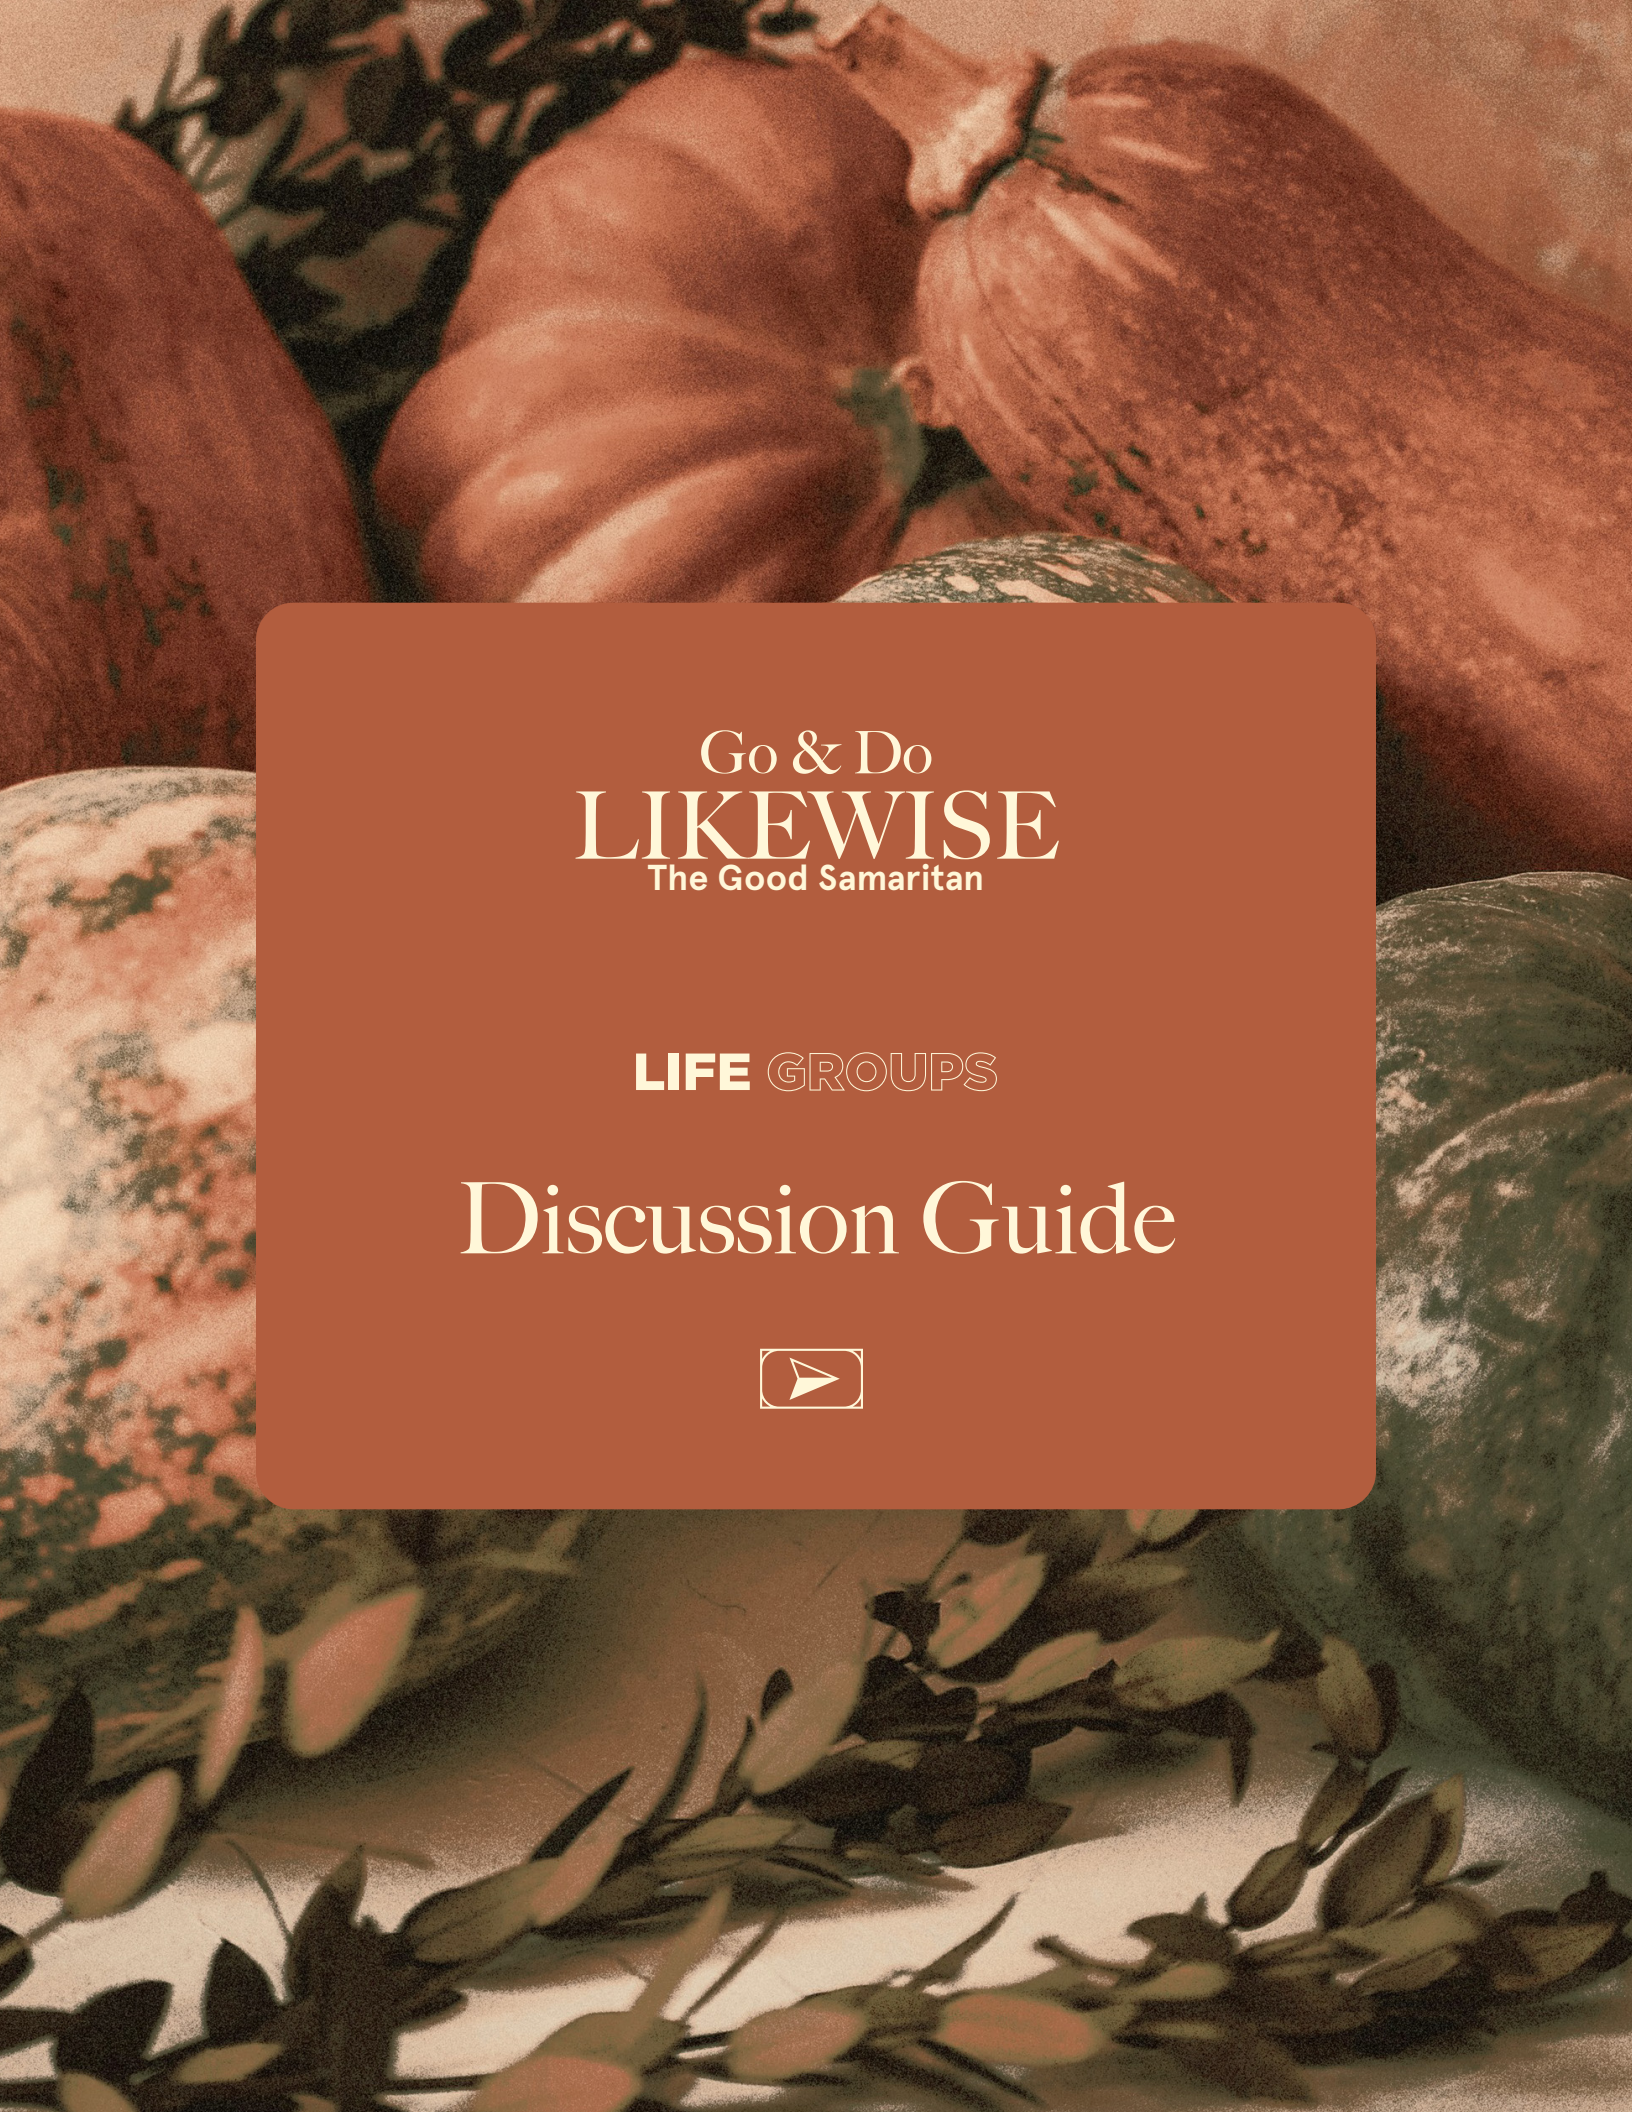

REFLECTION QUESTION:

If everyone has a place in the body, which God Himself arranged just as He desired (1 Corinthians 12:18), have you asked Him lately where He would like you to take your place?

Saturday: Be the Church

REFLECTION QUESTION:

Have you ever felt a spirit of criticism come upon you, tempting you to stand in judgment over the church? How does the recognition that you are the church help you to walk in grace and love?
